OUR BRAZOS COUNTY ROOTS
(SUBMITTED BY RUTH HARY AND JANIS HUNT)

The following narrative was written by Mary Ann HICKS MATHIS about 1940, and is a recollection of what she recalled about her family's early life. She was born in Arkansas October 3, 1867, and came to Brazos county, Texas when she was two years old. Her father died when she was nine years of age and her mother died when she was eleven years of age. She eventually went to live with her paternal grandmother Mary Ann BLAKE HICKS BOWDEN.

"Mary Ann BLAKE was married at the age of 15 to Jessie HICKS. The marriage was solemnized about nine miles north of Raleigh, North Carolina (Wake county.) They put their belongings in a wagon and went to another part of the country and never heard from her people until she was nearly seventy-five years old. She wrote to the sheriff of that county and learned that two sisters whose husbands were blind were still living in the old home place.

"To this union were born four girls and five sons. One died in infancy. At one time Jessie had an eighth interest in a fishing business. One day a week they fished and each got 1/8 of the fish.

"One winter Jessie built a water gin, waiting to finish his gin before he ginned his cotton. He ginned his load of cotton and went to Memphis, Tennessee, fifty miles away, to sell the cotton and buy supplies. With him was his son, Tom, then about nine years old. The father caught cholera there and died at a man's house on his way home. The man buried him on the road side. They burned his clothes. The child, Tom, thought of his father's purse just in time to save it from being burned too. A young man took the wagon, team and boy home. Before breaking the news to the widow, the young man had her sit down. At the time she was six months with child. That summer she went to her husband's grave, built a fence around it and never saw it again. She kept the gin several years, letting the neighbors gin their cotton in exchange for ginning hers.

"Two of Mary Ann HICKS' sons, Jess and William Rederick (Buck) were in the Civil War and were captured. For two years they were not heard from and were supposed to be dead. Their mother, with some others on horseback, was on her way to church when she saw the two sons in the distance and recognized their walk. People along the way heard the shouting.

"When Mary Ann HICKS' children were all grown, with their consent, she married a widower named Henry BOWDEN. He had two sons, Gus and Tom.

"One of Grandma HICKS BOWDEN's sons was William Redrick (Buck) HICKS. He was married to Annie Catherine McCORMICK at her brother John McCORMICK's house near De Witt, Arkansas. Annie Catherine's father was sheriff for eight years in one place. His first wife died when Annie Catherine, their seventh child, was born. The children were put in an orphan's home at Shakertown, Kentucky.

"William Hederick (Buck) and Annie Catherine HICKS were parents of four children: Mary Ann, Robert, Maggie Emma and John W. When Mary Ann HICKS was about two years old, they moved to Texas in a wagon pulled by mules. They were on the road six weeks in sleet, snow and rain, and were waterbound for some time. A man hired to help with the packing, etc., seemed to have a cough due to a cold. When the mother developed whooping cough on the road, they realized that it was what the hired man had. Exposure caused the cough to settle on her lungs and made her an invilid for six years before her death. Robert, Maggie and John were born in Texas. Coming to Texas with Buck and Annie Catherine was a nephew, Jim HICKS, whose father and mother died when he was three years old. His father was Tom HICKS.

"Grandpa and Grandma Bowden, also Uncle Jess HICKS, a bachelor, and Uncle Jim HICKS already had established homes in Texas before Buck and family came to Texas! Buck HICKS bought land and had built a rent house and his home before he died of pneumonia three years later.

"A week after Buck's death, Robert, his six year old son died. Annie Catherine, the mother died two years later. The children went to live with Uncle Jim and Aunt Emma HICKS who promised the mother to take them and not let them be separated. Five years after Annie Catherine's death, Uncle Jim HICKS died. Grandpa BOWDEN had died in the meantime and Grandma Bowden had moved in the house with her bachelor son, Jess HICKS. The orphaned children went to live with them.

"Buck HICKS was converted after he came to Texas. His wife was already a Christian. He was baptized in Texas and came home and told his wife. Mary Ann Hicks remembers going part of the way to church in an ox wagon and walking the rest of the way. Later the father bought a buggy."

The above concludes the narrative.

The above information has proved to be remarkably accurate as we have taken her information and added to it with our research.

Our research reveals that the family of Jessie HICKS was living in Holly Springs, Mississippi at the time of this death. Holly Springs is about 50 miles from Memphis. The 1850 mortality schedule shows that Jessie HICKS died from cholera in July, 1849.

Civil War records show that a Jess HICKS from Texas and a William R. HICKS from Arkansas were prisoners.

William Rederick and Annie Catherine were married in DeWitt, Arkansas. We have obtained a copy of the marriage license. John McCORMICK, her brother, was living in this location.

Annie Catherine McCORMICK's father turns out to be James McCORMICK. He did place five children in the Shaker Orphanage in Shakertown, Kentucky in Feb., 1852. By Dec. 1852, James McCORMICK was in Auburn (Placer county) Calif. which was gold rush country. He was sheriff there for eight years, married again and had nine more children.

One of the interesting aspects of this research was finding out more about Mary Ann BLAKE HICKS BOWDEN. She had to be a tough old lady in those days to have outlived two husbands and nine children. She could not read or write, but her probate file in Brazos county, Tex., shows that at her death in 1888, she had $2,700 out on loan in notes earning 10 percent interest. Among the notes were three to Henry KURTEN, founder of Kurten. Mary Ann BOWDEN and her second husband, Henry BOWDEN, are buried in Wixon cemetery in unmarked graves. She lived to be 75 years old.

On Oct. 3, 1886, Mary Ann HICKS BOWDEN was present at the wedding of her granddaughter, Mary Ann HICKS. Mary Ann HICKS and James Wilson MATHIS were married in Brazos county, Tex. They resided in the Reliance and Steep Hollow communities. To this union were born eleven children, seven of whom lived to adulthood. They were: Annie Lee, Maggie Irene, Pearl Estelle, Winnie Dell, Jewell WISE, Raymond H. and Lela Fay MATHIS. Lela Fay is the only surviving child at this date.

Mary Ann and James Wilson MATHIS are the grandparents of Ruth HARY and the great-grandparents of Janis HUNT.

Thank you, Ruth and Janis for sharing an interesting part of your family history with us. Naomi McCORMICK

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The publication of the Brazos County Cemetery Listings is our challenge for 1989. This challenge will be met with the presentation of the efforts of this organization on October 16, 1989. Mark the occasion on your calendar, because you need to be present!

Our goals for the year are simple:

1. Publish the listings.
2. Publish the Advertiser.
3. Record the cemeteries "metes and bounds".
4. Do our "on-going" genealogical work on our families.

With your help, these goals are all obtainable. We have an established work schedule which will enable all of us to participate. Very little remains to be done on completing the research on goal 1. Goal 2 is being met by the outstanding job of Harry PORTZER, Naomi McCORMICK, Carl LANDISS and the members of our organization, a special thanks to each contributor. Goal 3 needs a lot of work and individual contacts to be obtainable. Goal 4 is our individual pleasure.

Committee Chairs for 1989:
Publicity: Peggy HOPE
Book: Joy BROWN
Editorial: Harry PORTZER
Library: Doris FRANCESCHINI
Membership: Maxine MILLER
Programs: Victoria SIMONS

Please submit your lineage charts for publication and any other interesting topics which you feel would help in overcoming obstacles in our search for ancestors.

Thanks to L.A. MADDOX, JR. and his officers for an outstanding year of service to the Brazos Genealogical Association.

Donald F. Simons

EDITORIAL

Now that we are starting a new year it is time to make our annual plea for more help from the membership. During 1988 we got several articles of real value that way, and hope for more during 1989. Of most importance in this line are QUERIES: We can never get enough of them! Every member ought to submit at least one Query during 1989.

FAMILY HISTORIES: This is the "bread and butter" of our magazine. The history itself, or a synopsis if it is long, or a book review format if you have already written it and it is available or will be available elsewhere. Anything relating to the Brazos Valley in any way is acceptable.

ANCESTOR (pedigree) charts are another item that we hope to get from each member. If you need help getting these into a neat format suitable for printing, this staff is always on hand to help.

With the New Year, it is time to think of annual dues, which are unchanged from last year. See pg. 2 (inside front cover) for details. Quite a few have paid up already, but there is always room for more!

OLD FRANKLIN
Mrs. Lewis Perkins

Old Franklin, a frontier town on Mud Creek, was developed on the southern edge of the wilderness that had been Robertson's Colony in the period from 1830 through 1835. It was the surveyor's outpost after the Battle of San Jacinto, then the county seat of Robertson County from 1837 until 1850, then it disapeared, totally, abandoned to the woodlands. My Great, Great, Grandfather, David Cobb, was one of those brave surveyors who blazed the way for the settlers to follow, in the hazards of the wild county of hostile Indians. His brother, Clay Cobb, was a Chain Carrier for the surveyors. They marked the boundaries of over twenty Texas counties, where many lost their lives, buried where they fell, or in the little cemetery at Mud Creek, where most of the graves are lost now.

Francis Slauter started the work of building the town and county, named for Sterling Clack Robertson. Robert Henry and John Chalmers were his aids, and a deed for the town plott was from Edward McMillan, near the headwaters of Mud Creek, ten miles north of the Wheelock Prairie, where E.L.R. Wheelock had settled. The Creek was spring-fed and the sloping hills were covered with great trees. To the west were rolling hills and creeks, inhabited by Indians, and to the north, an endless wilderness stretched across Central Texas.

The public square was in the center of town, with 2 livery stables, Matthew Groom's blacksmith shop, A.W. Cook's general merchandise store, who sold mole-skin pantaloons, fine boots, hats, guns, hymnbooks, Bibles, saddles, and caskets. William Love built the best house in town, S.M. White and Thomas Eaton were partners in a saloon.

Leander Harl was given a contract to build a courthouse and jail. The Courthouse was to be twenty feet wide, twenty-five feet long, eight feet high walls each, upper and lower floors, eighteen inches off the ground, and boarded all around to prevent the admission of hogs and other small animals, with shingled pitch-roof. The Courthouse was to be ready for the Oct. 1838 session of court, but Harl died, and the job was completed by G.W. Cox, in Aug. 1839. Meantime, the home of William Love was rented to serve as the Robertson County Courthouse. "Three Legged Willie" Williamson presided over the first session. He had tamed Shelby County in prior months, so his reputation preceded his arrival. He presided over court with his pistol at one elbow and his rifle at the other.

Judge Williamson appointed George W. Hill to serve as deputy clerk to replace George W. Cox, who was being held for trial for assault and battery on D.W. Collins. Beaden Stroud was named to serve Chairman of the Grand Jury. Other men on the jury were: Thomas Welch, Seth Bates, J.A. Graves, William Henry, William McGrew, Andrew McMillan, John Welch, George Robinson, Bradley PHIFER, William FULLERTON, D. W. CAMPBELL, Henry REED and Andrew McMAHON. The first grand jury brought indictments against nine county residents: Jesse MUMFORD for living in adultery with a woman known as Franky MUMFORD, George COX and DAWSON for assault and battery, Johathan R. HARDIN for perjury, and Leroy BOGGUS, Thomas EATON, Alfred EATON, Samuel W. WHITE and Absolum HENSON, all saloon keepers, were charged with "tippling", defined as drinking liquor habitually.

The first veniremen to serve on jury duty were: Isiah HARLAN, Henry FULLERTON, George ROBINSON, T. R. WELCH, John CHAMBLEE, Joseph WEBB, Robert BARTON, A. F. MOSS, Elijah POWERS, Robert CARTER, George GRAFTON, Jesse WEBB, E. M. JONES, Henry MORGAN, James CASTLEMAN, William COLEY, H. PLUMMER, J. W. HILL, John GROVIS, A. A. MILLICAN, Samuel WALKER, D. W. CAMPBELL, John McDANIEL and Ripley WHEELOCK.

G. W. COX was set free and Leroy BOGGUS was fined $110.00 for tippling. Jonathan HARDIN was found guilty of perjury and fined $500.00 and sentenced to fifty lashes on the bare back in the public square.

William WATSON became the District Judge, Francis SLAUGHTER the Chief Justice, Harrison OWEN the County Clerk, who filed deeds of record and issued marriage licenses. Sheriff SMITH enforced the law with his deputies.

The first voters at Old Franklin in November, 1838 were: J. W. HILL, W. G. HILL, S. M. McKAY, Robert McCUISTION, Phillip WEPPLER, Ben SAUL, A. W. COOKE, A. D. STEPHENS, John TOUCHSTONE, H. B. MORGAN, Harrison YORK, J. L. ROBERTSON, W. L. MOSS, Harrison OWEN, William McKNIGHT, James SWEENEY, J. R. CANDAY, Henry REED and Francis SLAUGHTER. Others voted in their communities on the prairie, set up for voting.

By 1839 Franklin was a popular place for settlers seeking land. The freight station was adjacent to the one hotel. The Academy was built near the Court House; it was built of logs, with split log chairs and tables. It had about twenty pupils. Some boarded in town, who lived too far away to travel back and forth each day. The names of pupils and teachers were lost, but the CAVITT children of Wheelock attended: Josephus, Sheridan, Andrew and James Alexander CAVITT. J. M. WINKLER and D. M. PENDERGAST studied law, and A. C. LOVE was a medical student in 1839. George Washington HILL was the first doctor at Old Franklin, and he later became Secretary of War under Sam Houston, while he was a congressman and also an Indian agent in the northern part of the county. Hill County was named for him in 1853.

In the fall of 1838 twenty-four surveyors went out from Old Franklin to Spring Hill. They were led by Captain William F. HENDERSON of the Rangers. They were attacked by 300 Kickapoo Indians, where they lost 12 men, and finally all but 3 lost their lives. This battle occurred near the present town of Dawson. The survivors were Captain HENDERSON (later a famous lawyer), Walter LANE (a hero of San Jacinto in 1836) and James BARTON. The dead were Euclid COX, John VIOLET, William SMITH, William LOVE, Joseph JONES, Thomas BARTON, Samuel ALLEN, Jim HEARD, Asa MITCHELL, William TREMIER, Jim BULLOCK, Nathan BAKER, Andy HOUSTON, Dana CLARK, James NEAL, John HAND, John INGRAHAM, John DAVID and Joseph SPIKES. In another statement, survivors were listed as LOVE, JACKSON, HENDERSON, P. M. JONES, LANE, John BURTON and VIOLET. Evidently no accurate records were kept.

Soon after this tragedy of Battle Creek, George Washington HILL built a trading post at the spring near where the Franklin men were buried.

Another terrifying hand-to-hand fight with Indians occurred in 1840 when the Indians stole horses from a corral in Old Franklin. A. C. LOVE, a young medical student, joined the posse consisting of Harvey MATTHEWS, D. H. LOVE, S. B. KILLAUGH and David HILL. All of the horses but one were recovered, this one a fine animal ridden by an Indian brave with his squaw behind him. A. C. LOVE shot the squaw and David HILL shot the horse when his bullet missed the brave. The Indian ran on foot with A. C. LOVE in hot pursuit. Their guns were empty, so when LOVE overtook the Indian, they tried to club each other to death with their rifles, then with fists, ending in an Indian bear hug which LOVE broke by grabbing the savage's long hair and jerking his head back. He then stabbed him to death with his knife.

Another battle of eight Rangers was fought at Heard's Prairie, named for Major G. W. HEARD who led them, where he was killed, scalped and mutilated. He was carried back to Old Franklin and buried in the little cemetery there (now on Walter DAGGETT land).

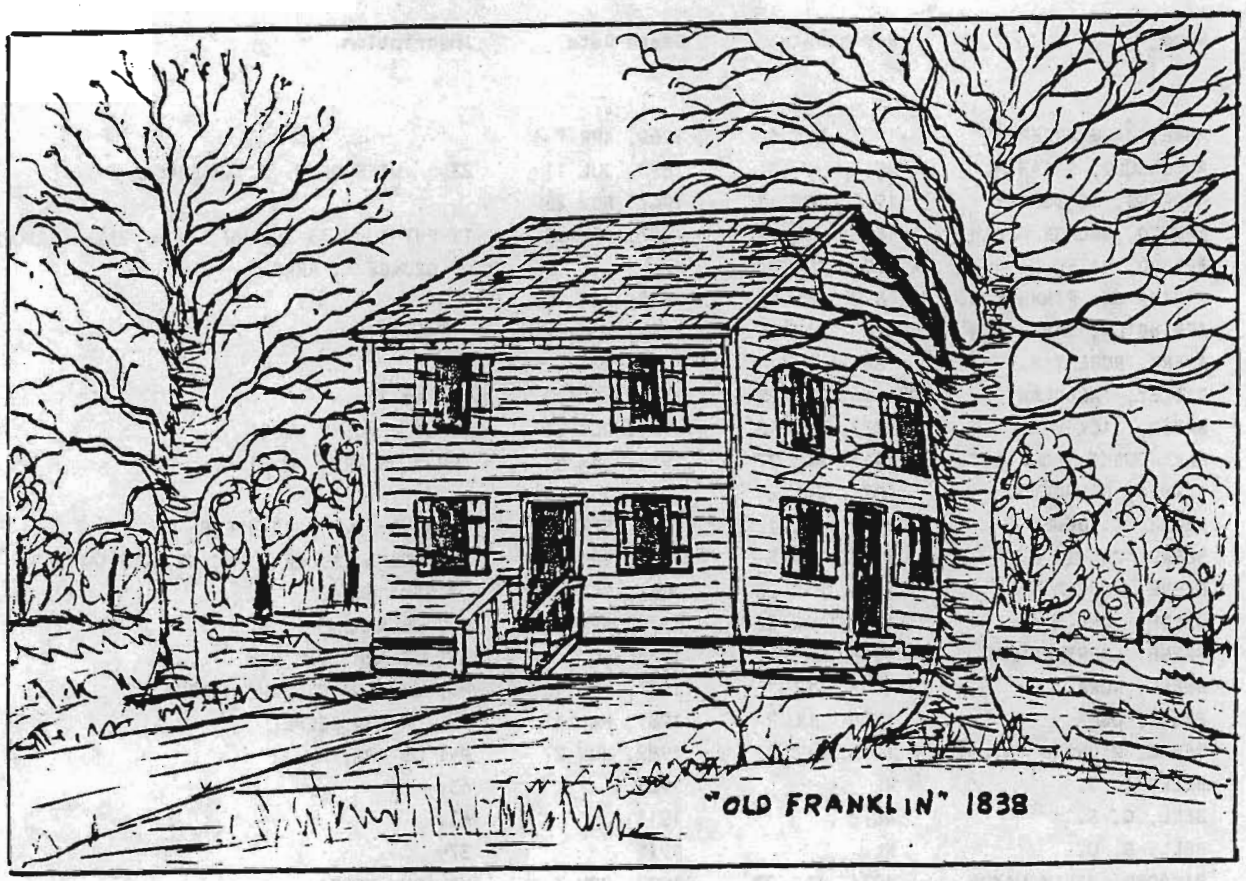

There was a cholera epidemic in August of 1838 that killed many persons who were buried at Old Franklin: Elizabeth McCUISTION and her husband, Francis SLAUGHTER, Leander HARL, J. M. TIDWELL and others. Their grave markers are lost except for a few remaining stones.

In 1846 the limits of Robertson County were cut from 25,000 square miles to less than 1,000, and the work of the pioneers of the Republic ended. The Court House was weathered and old, standing alone among empty stores and homes. Merchants and families had moved to the protected prairies, like Wheelock Prairie. By 1850 a petition signed by merchants and County Commissioners ordered an election to remove the County Seat to Wheelock. In 1851 the Court House and jail were torn down, and in a short time the first county seat passed out of existence.

During the Civil War, soldiers camped for a time on the grounds, not knowing that a town once stood there. An old log building remaining on the property of Walter DAGGETT was torn down and a letter in Spanish was found, written in the late 1700's by a woman living there. She stated that she was waiting for the return of her husband, away with a hunting party, and that all but her had been killed by Indians. This letter showed that others had lived on Mud Creek even before the Anglo-American settlers came.

(I don't know if this letter is in the Robertson County Court House, in the Archives, or still in the possession of the DAGGETT family, today.)

This Old Franklin information came from Robertson County Probate Minutes, Volume 1, page 2, and from Mrs. K. GALLOWAY's writings, and from " A History of Robertson County" by J. W. BAKER. The sketch of the first Robertson Co. Court House is taken from BAKER; it was made by Ruth Wilson from a description found in old records.

CORNERSVILLE REUNION

In 1871 a Cornersville Club was formed by pioneers of Brazos county who had come here from Cornersville, Tennessee. (Cornersville, in Marshall county, is near the Giles county line.)

The club, when organized, had a membership of twelve families. May 8, 1895 there was an anniversary dinner in the home of Harvey MITCHELL for the six members who were still living.

Those attending were Judge E. P. MASSEY and daughter of Waco, Col. T. C. RITCHIE and wife of Georgetown, Col. Harvey MITCHELL and C. N. MITCHELL and a number of relatives and friends. Major TABOR, an honorary member of the club also attended.

THE WIZARD OF ID

Index To Volunteer Soldiers 1784 – 1811

transcribed by Virgil D. White

This index is for everyone searching for that elusive ancestor that could have served between 1784 and 1811. The index lists the name of the soldier, his rank, his unit and the general dates served. There are cross-references for records under more than one spelling or for service in more than one unit.

While service records do not contain as much information as pension records, they can be extremely helpful in providing places and dates of enlistment or volunteering for service, sometimes date and place of discharge, sometimes reason for discharge, leave papers and various other correspondence relating to a particular soldier. Some of the earlier entries may contain a personal description of the soldier. Service records can supply the information that will open up new areas for research and that is especially important within the 1784-1811 time period because of the tremendous migration and movement of the population during this period of time.

There are approximately 22,000 entries listed in the index.

748 pages, acid free paper with library quality Buckram covers, price $32.00.

Index To Old Wars Pension Files 1815 – 1926

Virgil D. White

The "Old Wars" pension application files are for claims based on death or disability incurred in service in the US Army, US Navy and US Marine Corps between the end of the Revolutionary War in 1783 and the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861. The claims are for service in "The Mexican War", "The Indian Wars" and some are for "The Civil War" before July 1861, a few "War of 1812" claims are included.

The "Old Wars" series contains approximately 26,000 entries. These files are most often overlooked by the researcher because of the mistaken belief that if a claim was filed for service in a particular conflict or war, the claim would be in that series, however if the claim was filed because of death or disability it would most likely be in the "Old Wars" series. If a soldier was killed or disabled because of reasons other than hostile action, the "Old Wars" files should definitely be researched.

The "Old Wars" files should be researched by everyone doing research between the middle 1700s and the early 1900s. This index provides the information to obtain the records located in these files. The index provides much more than a name, a number and the state name, considerable additional information has been provided. The information varies considerably in the entries. Each entry contains all or part of the following: name of soldier and any aliases used, name and class of dependent if any, service unit, application and file numbers or the certificate number for an approved claim, state from which the claim was made, date claim was made, many of the entries (several thousand) contain the date of death of the soldier. There are cross-references to files in other series.

Two volumes, 1194 pages, acid free paper with library quality Buckram covers, price $62.00.

Index To Indian Wars Pension Files 1892 - 1926

Transcribed By
Virgil D. White

The Indian Wars pension application files are for service in Indian Wars & Campaigns between 1817 and 1898. The Indian Wars series is one of the most informative series of records located at the National Archives. In addition to the usual types of records found in pension applications, these files contain a personal history questionnaire of the soldier as well as a family history questionnaire. These files contain a gold mine of information for the genealogist or historian. Some claims will contain information on 3 or more generations.

Many of the claims for service in the earlier wars were filed by widows who were the 2nd, 3rd or even 4th wife of the veteran. The late filing date of 1892-1926 can be misleading. Many of the claims contain considerable data from the late 1700's and the early 1800's.

The Indian Wars Index contains over 50,000 entries. The information in the entries varies considerably. The entries contain all or part of the following, name of soldier and any aliases used, name of widow and surname if remarried and in some the name of 2nd, 3rd or former husbands is provided, a few claims give the names of minors, parents or siblings, application number or certificate numbers for an approved claim, state or country from which claim was filed, date claim was filed, name of war or conflict and date served, a large number (several thousand) contain the date and place of death of the soldier and some contain the date of death of the widow. There are cross-references to files in other series.

Two volumes, 1733 pages, acid free paper with library quality Buckram covers. Price $87.00

Index Of U.S. Marshals 1789 - 1960

Transcribed By Virgil D. White

This index was prepared from records located at the National Archives. The records and service files for US Marshals are located in Record Groups 60 & 287. The index gives the name of the Marshal, dates of service and the district served in, surname of preceeding (vice) Marshal and the reason for his termination. The index also gives the source of the information. These entries contain the information required for the use of most of the other pertinent series in Record Group 60.

The files of the US Marshals contain valuable information for the genealogist or historian.

The Railroad Retirement Board administers a separate system of social security for railroad workers. The Railroad Retirment Board, an independent agency of the government, administers this program of old-age, survivors and disability benefits. Railroad employers and workers share equally in financing the program. A worker with less than 10 years railroad service has his wage credits transferred to the general society security system, and receives benefits from it. But, even though he has more than 10 years' railroad service, survivor benefits are based on his combined earnings in railroad and other work, and are generally paid by the Railroad Retirement Board. A worker can receive two payments. A supplementary retirement system financed entirely by employers pays additional pensions to workers.

MEMBERS: Too often we wind up like this with unused space, and your Ed. has to fill it with any thing he can. Help him out with your "fillers". If you are not up to a full page or longer article, how about some QUERIES, or other short item. After all, as they would say: "pennies add up to pounds". A joke or cartoon, for example, if it has a genealogical flavor.

REMEMBER! Your 1989 dues ($12 single, $18 couple) became payable January 1! Mail checks to our address; see top of inside front cover.

You may also wish to send in individual 4x6 cards on your ancestors, to be placed in our FAMILY RESEARCH CARD FILE.
