DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

The charter authorizing the L. S. Ross Chapter No. 100 of the Daughters of the Confederacy has been received. The charter members are hereby notified that a full application for membership must be filed with the secretary and the committee on credentials, composed of Mrs. R. K. CHATHAM, chairman; Mrs. J. J. ADAMS and Mrs. W. G. TALLEAFERRO, will pass on the applications of new members.

The chapter will assist Camp J. B. Robertson in any work suggested, and will contribute to the Southern monument fund on demand.

An effort will be made to care for sick veterans of the county, provide medicines, delicacies, etc. Application blanks are ordered and will be ready for distribution before the next regular meeting April 27.

This organization should have the hearty encouragement, support and cooperation of everyone interested in perpetuating the golden memories of our glorious Southland.

All ladies eligible to membership are invited to make formal application. Bryan is a good field for such a work, which should be given the encouragement the movement deserves, strengthening the chapter and stimulating the activity of the members.

Officers elected are as follows: Miss SHEPARD, president; Mrs. Amanda TRUE, vice-president; Mrs. R. K. CHATHAM, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. J. F. PARKS recording secretary; Miss Lottie STODDARD, corresponding secretary and Mrs. A. J. BUCHANAN, treasurer.

OLD FOLKS CONCERT
At the Opera House a Grand Success

No entertainment given in Bryan for years perhaps has been more thoroughly successful in its purpose and results than the Old Folks concert given at the Opera House last night under the direction of the ladies of L. S. Ross chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy for the benefit of the Ross monument to be erected on the campus at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. The house was packed to its full capacity both up and down stairs, the crowd being estimated at 600, and the receipts will probably considerably exceed $125.00. College was largely and creditably represented, and the members of the college band rendered invaluable service with their excellent music. Enthusiasm prevailed from the rise of the curtain to the close of the last number on the program. Everyone participating in the exercise seemed thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the occasion and the result was a splendid performance all the way through. The stage was decorated in red, white and blue with a soldier's tent and arms stacked in the background. A score of old veterans participated in the singing of the first song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

The Daughters of the Confederacy wore quaint old costumes and were received with rousing encores at every appearance. Their medley of catchy old songs, winding up with a dash of the new in "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," was cheered to the echo and could not be surpassed.

Col. CHATHAM and Mr. PARKS both brought down the house with their war songs and were led back to the stage, in response to vociferous recalls, by Gen. STODDARD who was master of ceremonies. Col. CHATHAM looked superb in an old uniform of Confederate grey with a sword at his side--the same sword worn by Col. M. W. SIMS during the war.

Mrs. A. L. BANKS and Miss SHIELDS sang beautifully and were both recalled, Miss SHIELDS repeating "My Maryland" by request from the audience after the program was nearly concluded. Mrs. Webb HOWELL sang "Within a Mile o' Edinborro Town," with great sweetness of expression. The recitations of Mrs. HANWAY and Miss JOHNSON related to the sentiment and heroism of war times and were highly creditable. One of the most pleasing numbers on the program was "Twenty Years Ago," a sketch by Mrs. ADAMS and Mrs. TRUE, in which they introduced an old fashioned pair of cotton "cards" and spinning wheel, with songs of that period.

The ladies interested in the entertainment were: Meadames M. W. SIMS, W. A. BANKS, J. W. JOHNSON, A. J. BUCHANAN, W. C. FRILEY, J. F. PARKS, J. J. ADAMS, R. K. CHATHAM, Ida SHEPARD, Eliza JOHNSON, J. Webb HOWELL, J. T. HANWAY, Paul BRADLEY, A. L. BANKS, T. B. GILLESPIE; Misses STODDARD, SHIELDS, ROGERS, JOHNSON, and Mable ROBINSON.

The ladies were greatly assisted in the entertainment by a number of the members of Camp J. B. Robertson, U. C. V., while Messers H. C. ROBINSON, W. A. WITHERS, and J. B. STEVENSON added much to the excellence of the music.

NEW EDITORIAL STAFF

With this issue the Advertiser has a new editorial staff. We would like to thank MARY COOPER, the previous editor, for all the work she has given to our publication for the last seven years. She has set high standards for all who follow. Thank you, Mary, for your dedication.

At this time we would like to introduce our new editorial staff. Each has a different and unique background. All have been active in many different community organizations, both here and abroad. All are actively working on their own family genealogy and each brings different skills to the Advertiser

NAOMI McCORMICK is Local History Editor and, as a long-time Brazos County resident,is familiar with families, churches and organizations in the Brazos Valley area.

ROSEMARY BOYKIN is Research and International Editor. She recently published a book on her DePASQUALE family. She gathered information from both US and Italian sources.

HARRY PORTZER is Continuing Series Editor. He has compiled information on his family using the computer,and has worked with a non profit newspaper publication in Mobile Alabama before moving to our area.

NADINE BILLINGSLEY is Editor and has published a book on her family history. While working on this book she became interested in genealogy. EDITOR

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Our organization has had a very busy year and, thus far, a successful one. Much of our time has been spent rechecking and bringing our Brazos County Cemetery Listings up to date. Also in obtaining histories of these cemeteries. We are now nearing completion of this task and work as begun on ways and means for publishing our findings. We do need a few more members to help with work in the Bryan cemeteries. If you can help, please let us know.

Seventeen new members have been welcomed into our organization this year. May they all profit from this experience.

One dark cloud did come into the picture. Mary Cooper, Editor of the advertiser for seven years, resigned. It was with regret that we lost Mary in this capacity; however, we are glad we can still see her going about with her many other activities. Mary, we hope your retirement years will be happy ones.

After Mary's resignation,we did much checking of our member's qualifications and came up with an Editorial staff of four. This staff has been hard at work and we are looking forward to future issues of the Advertiser. Three other members of the old staff will continue their contributions for the rest of this year. Thanks to all these hard working people.

Mary Bell, President

BEWARE OF FAMILY HERITAGE BOOK FRAUD

An article in the Sep/Oct issue of the National Genealogical Society Newsletter tells the outcome of recent litigation involving the state of Wisconsin and a fraudulent family heritage book.

"On July 26 1985, Judge R.W. BARDWELL of the Dane County, Wisconsin Circuit Court, found BEATRICE BAYLEY Incorporated 'guilty of untrue, deceptive and misleading solicitation' in connection with the sale of its 'family heritage books,' in violation of a consent judgment issued by the court in 1980, and ordered a forteiture of $1,500.

During the trial an expert witnesses testified that the term 'family heritage'has essentially the same meaning as 'family history' or 'family genealogy,' and pointed out that there are no relationships set forth between the various names listed in the BAYLEY 'family heritage books.'

"Under cross examination, BEATRICE BAYLEY testified that the family heritage books are identical except for the names listed in each book, that those names are assembled from auto license registrations, telephone books, social security lists and city directories, and that the lists do not include deceased family members or female family members who have married.

"Judge BARDWELL laid down the following guidelines to be followed in the future in Wisconsin by BEATRICE BAYLEY Incorporated:

"1. All representations to prospective purchasers must make clear that the book being offered is not a 'family heritage book' or an 'album' but is a general guidebook to genealogy, including a section listing names of individuals with the family name of the purchaser.

"2.The defendant shall make no representation or implication that BEATRICE BAYLEY has personally researched the purchaser's family history, unless this is the case.

"3. The defendant shall make no representation to prospective purchasers which indicates directly or by implication that any claimed amount of hours or dollars expended on research was directed at locating individuals with the same surname as the purchaser.

"4. The defendant shall make no representation directly or by implication that the book being offered the purchaser is unique if all persons with the same surname are to receive the identical book, unless defendant clearly represents that the book is only a guide to the purchaser's genealogy or family history."

RESEARCHING THE ITALIAN IMMIGRANT ANCESTOR.....

Having just completed a book on my Italian ancestry, The DePasquales - From Italy/Sicily to Texas, I wanted to share with you some of the many things that I learned while undertaking such an endeavor. Because my mother was born in Italy and my father's parents were born in Sicily, my genealogical searching took me overseas at a very early stage. For the most part this proved to be quite pleasurable but I will have to admit that there were also a few frustrating moments.

If the origin of the family in Italy or Sicily is not known the source of the Italian surname itself can often be traced, and its formation and modifications identified, according to an article by Trafford R. COLE, The Origin, Meaning and Changes in Major Italian Surnames. He lists four major categories from which family names originate:

1) - personal names - (religious origin) DOMENICO; (Latin origin, or Latin variations of Greek, German and Hebrew names) GIOVANNI, (cultural connotation) GUIDO, DANTE. Each became the root for the many variations that then stemmed from that name. Ex. ANDREA, the Greek root 'andros' meaning 'man', variations: ANDREOTTI, ANDREINI, ANDREONI, ANDREACCHIO. In Italian, the endings otto, otti, one, oni, all denote something large, therefore, if the ANDREA in a village was a large man his surname became ANDREOTTO or ANDREONE, whereas, if he were small or short, his family name most probably would be ANDREINI. Regional variations also occurred: the D'ANDREA and De ANDREA typical of the south, the ANDREAN, ANDREASI, ANDRAT forms are found in Northeast Italy and the Slavic variations, such as ANDRIC, ANDREASSICH near Yugoslavia.

2) - nicknames - Surnames were often taken from the nickname of a person. It was common during the Middle Ages to identify a person through some personal characteristic such as, BIONDO(blonde), ROSSI(red), GRASSO (fat). Intellectual or behavioral characteristics: ASTUTO (clever), TARDO (retarded), BEVILACQUA drinks water), FUMAGALLI (chicken thief) etc. Sometimes nicknames originated from events that had occurred previously: MAGNAVACCA (ate a cow), MACCAFERRI (dented iron), etc. This group includes almost 38% of all Italian family names.

3) - names of localities - Includes almost 37% of all Italian family names.Ex. MANTOVANI, meaning 'from Mantova,' FERRARA and FURLAN meaning 'from Friuli.'

4) - names of vocations - SARTORI (tailors), SEGATO (lumberers), FABBRO or FERRARI (smiths), etc.

Many surnames have changed in recent years due to the emigration to other countries, and in particular to the U.S. Names such as CHINICE were "Americanized" to become KINISH. Often the immigrant was illiterate and not able to spell his name for the immigration officer who had to spell through phonics from an unfamiliar pronunciation.

During the period from 1922 to 1944 under the rule of Benito MUSSOLINI Italy was relatively isolated both politically and culturally from the surrounding countries, in an attempt to prohibit any Italian confrontation with other societies. Persons with foreign names were required by law to Italianize them, thus KUCEL became CUCELLI, LUTTMAN was changed to LUTTINI. Although after the war, some families went through the legal process to retake their old surname, many of these new variations remained.

If you are fortunate enough to know when and where your ancestors first entered these United States numerous passenger lists may be found in the Genealogy Room of the Bryan Library. The National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20408 has incomplete series of customs passenger lists and immigration passenger lists of ships arriving from abroad at Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico ports, such as:

Port	Customs Passenger Lists	Immigration Passenger Lists	Indexes
Baltimore	1820-91	1891-1909	1820-1952
Boston	1820-74 & 1883-91	1891-1943	1848-91 & 1902-20
New Orleans	1820-1902	1903-45	1853-1952
New York	1820-97	1897-1942	1820-46 & 1897-1943
Philadelphia	1800-82	1883-1945	1800-1948
Certain minor ports	1820-73	1893-1945	1890-1924

Supplementing the indexes listed above is a general index to quarterly reports of arrivals at most ports except New York, 1820-74. One has but to write to the address above for the pamphlet, Genealogical Records in the National Archives, which will describe in more detail the services that are available. Meanwhile, the microfilm copies of these lists may be ordered through the Interlibrary Loan Service of the Sterling C. Evans Library at Texas A&M University.

Another publication of considerable value to the researcher of Italian ancestry is Records of Genealogical Value for Italy, The Genealogical Department of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Series G., No. 2, 1979. The Genealogical Dept. 50 East N. Temple St. Salt Lake City, Utah 84150. Valuable information is contained within as to how and where various genealogical records are stored and a brief description of their contents. The Genealogical Dept. of the LDS Church has sample form letters to send to Italy.
